INFORMED CONSENT DOCUMENT FOR IMPLANTATION OF THREADS IN FACE, NECK AND ARMS

In observance of Act 41/2002, regulating patient's autonomy and rights and duties concerning information and clinical documents (BOE 15-11-02), we offer you, in writing and in an understandable manner, information about IMPLANTATION OF THREADS. However, said information has already been concisely and orally provided to you by the undersigned doctor, who also, and at your request, has addressed all your questions, as well as those related to the treatment. This document is just the graphic transcription of said information, to help you understand it and motivate a thoughtful and deliberate authorization.

It is important that you read this information carefully and in its entirety. Please sign or put your initials on every page, thus indicating that you have read and signed the consent document for the procedure recommended by your doctor.

I HEREBY STATE:

That I REQUEST AND AUTHORIZE Doctor _____,
_____, graduated in Medicine and Surgery, with medical license number _____, to perform upon me a treatment known as IMPLANTATION OF THREADS IN FACE, NECK AND ARMS, having chosen this instead of the alternatives, namely _____.

I have been informed about, and I accept, the commonly known risks of premedication, anesthesia and/or the treatment to be performed.

I CONSENT, if needed, to the administration of local anesthesia by, or under the direction of, Dr. _____.

This document has been drafted to inform you about the technique to implant threads made of polydioxanone (PDO), polycaprolactone (PCL) or polylactic acid, with the following risks and alternative treatments _____.

In this case, I will be implanted with _____ threads, brand _____.

I KNOW and ACCEPT the physician's professional training to perform this treatment.

The substances and machines involved have been authorized for use in aesthetic medicine, and show the CE brand and its corresponding sanitary registration number.

I CONFIRM that the treatment mentioned above has been fully explained to me by the physician in words I can understand, including typical risks involved, undesired effects, the risks specific to me, and also discomfort or, occasionally, pain I may feel with normal post-treatment. I have also been told about other options available in the market, together with pros and cons of each one. Taking this into account, I have chosen the treatment described above.

I have also been informed, in terms of probability, about the results of the procedure according to references from comparative scientific literature, and the professional's previous experience executing these procedures.

BRIEF EXPLANATION OF THE TREATMENT:

Subdermal implantation of both kinds of threads is indicated to prevent and treat reactionary changes (flaccidity) in areas of the face and neck, due to aging or other factors.

As the individual ages, the skin and muscles of the facial region start to lose their tone. The implantation of tightening threads stimulates new collagen formation; although it can't stop the aging process, it can improve its symptoms by filling wrinkles with its own collagen and tightening caused by skin stretching.

The implantation technique (type of thread and combination), as well as volume of skin assemblage (no. of threads) is customized according to each patient, based on reactionary changes in facial and neck tissues. Threads can be even, spicular or have cones; their selection will be based on the indication and type of skin.

It is performed with topical or local anesthesia.

ALTERNATIVE TREATMENT

You may try to improve skin flaccidity and wrinkles with surgery (lifting) or other treatments, like radiofrequency, some types of deep chemical peels or laser lipolysis. There are risks and complications associated with alternative kinds of treatments.

RISKS OF IMPLANTATION OF THREADS

Every medical procedure entails certain risks, and it is important that you understand the risks associated with thread implantation.

Although most patients do not experience the following complications, you must keep in mind that they may occur, in which case you should discuss it with your aesthetic doctor.

- Hematomas: They are frequent. It is recommended not to take aspirin or alcohol 3 days prior to the treatment, since the risk of suffering a hematoma may increase. You must use the cream prescribed to you for this incidence.
- Moderate local inflammation and irritation of the tissue as a response to the presence of a foreign body. It may last 24-72 hours.
- Skin visibility of threads or temporary smocking.
- Mild effusion, edema or swelling, that resolve in a week and can be easily covered with makeup.
- Infection: Infections are very rare. If an infection occurs, you may need additional treatment, including antibiotics.
- Insufficient or excessive result, immunological reaction to the product, granulomas, nodules, pigmentation alterations, postponed infections, etc.
- Anesthesia: Both local and topical anesthesia involves risks. However, due to the low doses used for the procedure, these are very rare. The possibility exists of allergies or mild complications: temporary paresthesia, etc.
- Allergic reactions: Very rare, but threads are contraindicated in persons with known sensitivity or allergies to its components. Allergic reactions may require additional treatment.
- Unsatisfactory result: Aesthetic effects derived from implantation of threads occur gradually, starting to show 2-3 weeks after performing the implant, and reach their maximum development in about 3 months.
- Long-Term Effects: The treatment with threads doesn't stop the aging process. Results do not last forever; they will depend on age, the technique used and patient individuality. It may be indicated that the effect is produced for a period of 9 months to 2 years.

CONTRAINDICATIONS: Serious or decompensated diseases, active infection in the area, decompensated diabetes, history of abnormal scarring, gestation, lactation, relapsed local herpes, coagulopathies, decompensated or serious collagen disorders.

AFTER TREATMENT, I have been recommended to avoid abrupt movements in the area (gestures, very hard foods), massages in the area, alcohol intake and wearing makeup, direct exposure to the sun or UVA radiation, saunas and steam baths, practicing strenuous exercise, and leaning on the area treated.

I HAVE BEEN INFORMED that the treatment consists of one session, with one review and retouching, if appropriate, 4 weeks later. The number of threads necessary to obtain the desired effect is only illustrative, being impossible to know the exact number in advance, because each patient's reaction is different. If I want more threads than what was originally arranged, I must be previously informed. The approximate duration of the product is indicated in the manufacturer's package insert, in this case _____, although I acknowledge that my personal circumstances could cause a variation within the time frame of _____.

Results are obtained with greater efficacy if the treatment performed is supplemented with other treatments that will improve its effects.

I have been correctly informed, even in writing (information documents) and/or using images, about this treatment's characteristics: its fundamentals, the manner and details of its execution, its action mechanisms, its immediate effects, the process and evolution of the necessary supplementary treatments to observe in the following days, weeks or months, the cares and precautions to adopt in the following hours or days, the variability of the time necessary to fully recover; therefore, I acknowledge that no guarantee can be given to me as to the date when I can resume my regular activities (emotional, social, work and sports).

I ATTEST I have not left out or altered any data when showing my surgical medical history and records, especially those concerning allergies and diseases or personal risks.

The Medical History and results from tests performed on the patient don't advise against using the appropriate medical procedure when there isn't, a priori, any risks that may have determined the failure of the technique objectively considered, and which means to meet your expectations.

I RECOGNIZE that, during the treatment, unforeseen conditions may necessitate different procedures than those described above. Therefore, I hereby expressly authorize said procedures, including my transfer to a hospital center. In case of complications during the treatment, I authorize the Hospital to request the assistance they deem necessary from other specialists, in their best professional judgment.

If, during treatment, the healthcare staff was accidentally exposed to my blood, according to the principles of good medical practice I have been informed of the need to perform the proper analytical determinations on my blood, related to potential pathologies of blood transmission, to adopt the most suitable preventive measures.

I AGREE to do my best to follow the doctor's instructions to the letter before, during and after the treatment mentioned above. I take responsibility for complying with post treatment measures recommended by the Hospital, as well as attending control visits suggested by the doctor.

I UNDERSTAND that the goal of the treatment is to improve my appearance, with the possibility that some imperfection remains and that the result may not be what I expected. In this sense, I have been informed that the aesthetic result of the treatment depends on factors like how easily you scar, and the formation or non-formation of keloids. I am aware that the medical field is not an exact science, and that absolute perfection cannot be guaranteed. I understand the result may not be as expected and acknowledge that I haven't been given any guarantee at all.

Medical action might not end in itself, and subsequent treatment action might be necessary to reach the goal you're consenting to.

The cost of the treatment includes several charges for the services provided. The total includes your doctor's fees and the cost of materials, equipment or product. The charges for this procedure don't include possible future costs for additional procedures of your choice, or that you require to review, optimize or complete your result. There may be additional charges due to complications arising from the treatment. Charges for secondary treatments concerning check-ups and charges that haven't been previously arranged will also be your responsibility. By signing the consent for this procedure, you acknowledge you have been informed about its risks and consequences and take responsibility for the medical decisions made, together with the economic costs of any future treatments.

I AUTHORIZE the taking of photographs and videos for an appropriate diagnostic evaluation, and for the control of the assessment and results. I also authorize the taking of photographs of the operated area for scientific, educational or clinical purposes, and I understand that their use is not a violation of privacy or confidentiality, rights to which I am entitled.

I KNOW my data will be treated in an automated manner, which I have authorized after my rights have been explained to me pursuant to the LOPD (Spanish Organic Act on Data Protection) in force: rights of access, rectification, cancellation and objection established by the Act, and after expressing I can address the Clinic in writing, notwithstanding the provisions of Section 8 of the Act about health-related data. With my signature, I give my express consent for my personal data to be handled by the CLINIC for their own purposes.

I am aware that my signature and this consent don't assume any kind of waiver to future claims, both clinical and legal. I am also aware that I can withdraw my signature from this consent at any time prior to the execution of the treatment.

I have clarified any doubts about everything that has been mentioned above, and I fully understand this CONSENT DOCUMENT, standing by each and all of its points; by signing the document, I ratify and consent to the execution of the treatment.
