I HEREBY STATE:

That I REQUEST AND AUTHORIZE Doctor _____
 _____, graduated in Medicine and Surgery, with medical license number _____, to perform upon me a treatment known as TREATMENTS OF SOLAR OR SENILE SPOTS AND LENTIGO, having chosen this instead of the alternatives, namely _____.

I KNOW and ACCEPT the physician's professional training to perform this treatment.

I have been informed about, and I accept, the commonly known risks of premedication, anesthesia and/or the treatment to be performed.

I CONSENT, if needed, to the administration of local anesthesia by, or under instructions of, Dr.

The substances and machines involved have been authorized for use in aesthetic medicine, and show the CE brand and its corresponding sanitary registration number.

I CONFIRM that the treatment mentioned above has been fully explained to me by the physician in words I can understand, including typical risks involved, undesired effects, the risks specific to me, and also discomfort or, occasionally, pain I may feel with normal post-treatment. I have also been told about other options available in the market, together with pros and cons of each one. Taking this into account, I have chosen the treatment described above.

I have also been informed, in terms of probability, about the results of the procedure according to references from comparative scientific literature, and the professional's previous experience executing these procedures.

BRIEF EXPLANATION OF THE TREATMENT:

Solar or senile spots and lentigo are brownish areas of pigmentation, darker or lighter depending on their evolution, with different shapes and sizes, occurring on the face, neck, cleavage, arms and hands, and, in general, on areas exposed to the sun. They are caused by a growth or increase in the activity of melanocytes (cells containing the pigment of the skin), by the action of the sun or by the aging of the skin itself; in every case, it is aggravated by the sun. They can grow in size, and usually many occur on the same individual. Aside from treating current solar or senile spots and lentigo, the occurrence of new ones must be prevented by avoiding sun exposure and using high sunscreens.

- Treatment: Prior to treatment, the patient must have followed the indications prescribed by the doctor. Usually, the area is slightly numbed with topical anesthetic and cold; if this is not enough, a small amount of local anesthesia is injected. The treatment involves the application of Diode or ND:YAG laser light, intense pulsed light or chemical substances (acids, masks). Immediately after the treatment, a scab will occur in the treated area that must not be torn off. 10-12 days later, the scab will fall off, leaving a slightly red area that will gradually take the coloring of the rest of the skin.
- Post-treatment: Application of creams or ointments prescribed by the doctor (usually one depigmentation cream to use at night and one day cream with photoprotection).
- Indications: Benign hyperpigmentation of the skin.
- Contraindications: Sun exposure at least one week before the treatment. Allergy to the sun or light. Known allergies to any of the product's components. It is really important you tell your doctor what kind of cosmetics you are currently using.
- Side Effects: Hematomas (if there has been infiltration with local anesthesia), abnormal scarring, temporary alteration of skin coloring. There may be irritation and small scabs in more sensitive areas of the face, which will improve by applying emollient creams prescribed by the doctor. Insufficient results, which might be corrected with new treatment sessions.

I have been correctly informed, even in writing (information documents) and/or using images, about this treatment's characteristics: its fundamentals, the manner and details of its execution, its action mechanisms, its immediate effects, the process and evolution of the necessary supplementary treatments to observe in the following days, weeks or months, the cares and precautions to adopt in the following hours or days, the variability of the time necessary to fully recover; therefore, I acknowledge that no guarantee can be given to me as to the date when I can resume my regular activities (emotional, social, work and sports).

I ATTEST I have not left out or altered any data when showing my surgical medical history and records, specially those concerning allergies and diseases or personal risks.

The Medical History and results from tests performed on the patient don't advise against using the appropriate medical procedure when there isn't, a priori, any risks that may have determined the failure of the technique objectively considered, and which means to meet your expectations.

I RECOGNIZE that, during the treatment, unforeseen conditions may necessitate different procedures than those described above. Therefore, I hereby expressly authorize said procedures, including my transfer to a hospital center. In case of complications during the treatment, I authorize the Hospital to request the assistance they deem necessary from other specialists, in their best professional judgment.

I HAVE BEEN INFORMED that the number of sessions necessary to obtain the desired effect is only illustrative, being impossible to know the exact number of sessions that will be necessary in advance, because each patient's absorption/reaction is different. Results are obtained with greater efficacy if the treatment performed is supplemented with other treatments that will improve its effects.

If, during treatment, the healthcare staff was accidentally exposed to my blood, according to the principles of good medical practice I have been informed of the need to perform the proper analytical determinations on my blood, related to potential pathologies of blood transmission, to adopt the most suitable preventive measures.

I AGREE to do my best to follow the doctor's instructions to the letter before, during and after the treatment mentioned above. I take responsibility for complying with post treatment measures recommended by the Hospital, as well as attending control visits suggested by the doctor.

I UNDERSTAND that the goal of the treatment is to improve my appearance, with the possibility that some imperfection remains and that the result may not be what I expected. In this sense, I have been informed that the aesthetic result of the treatment depends on factors like how easily you scar, and the formation or non-formation of keloids. I am aware that the medical field is not an exact science, and that absolute perfection cannot be guaranteed. I understand the result may not be as expected and acknowledge that I haven't been given any guarantee at all.

Medical action might not end in itself, and subsequent treatment action might be necessary to reach the goal you're consenting to.

The cost of the treatment includes several charges for the services provided. The total includes your doctor's fees and the cost of materials, equipment or product. The charges for this procedure don't include possible future costs for additional procedures of your choice, or that you require to review, optimize or complete your result. There may be additional charges due to complications arising from the treatment. Charges for secondary treatments concerning check-ups and charges that haven't been previously arranged will also be your responsibility. By signing the consent for this procedure, you acknowledge you have been informed about its risks and consequences and take responsibility for the medical decisions made, together with the economical costs of any future treatments.

I AUTHORIZE the taking of photographs and videos for an appropriate diagnostic evaluation, and for the control of the assessment and results. I also authorize the taking of photographs of the treated area for scientific, educational or clinical purposes, and I understand that their use is not a violation of privacy or confidentiality, rights to which I am entitled.

I KNOW my data will be treated in an automated manner, which I have authorized after my rights have been explained to me pursuant to the LOPD (Spanish Organic Act on Data Protection) in force: rights of access, rectification, cancellation and objection established by the Act, and after expressing I can address the Clinic in writing, notwithstanding the provisions of Section 8 of the Act about health-related data. With my signature, I give my express consent for my personal data to be handled by the CLINIC for their own purposes.

I am aware that my signature and this consent don't assume any kind of waiver to future claims, both clinical and legal. I am also aware that I can withdraw my signature from this consent at any time prior to the execution of the treatment.

I have clarified any doubts about everything that has been mentioned above, and I fully understand this CONSENT DOCUMENT, standing by each and all of its points; by signing the document, I ratify and consent to the execution of the treatment.
