INFORMED CONSENT DOCUMENT FOR MICROPIGMENT IMPLANTATION

In observance of Act 41/2002, regulating patient's autonomy and rights and duties concerning information and clinical documents (BOE 15-11-02), we offer you, in writing and in an understandable manner, information about MICROPIGMENT IMPLANTATION. However, said information has already been concisely and orally provided to you by the undersigned doctor, who also, and at your request, has addressed all your questions, as well as those related to the procedure. This document is just the graphic transcription of said information, to help you understand it and motivate a thoughtful and deliberate authorization.

It is important that you read this information carefully and in its entirety. Please sign or put your initials on every page, thus indicating that you have read and signed the consent document for the procedure recommended by your doctor.

I HEREBY STATE:

That I REQUEST AND AUTHORIZE Doctor _____
_____, graduated in Medicine and Surgery, with medical license number _____, to perform upon me a procedure known as MICROPIGMENTATION or permanent makeup in the following areas

I KNOW and ACCEPT the physician's professional training to perform this treatment.

The substances and machines involved have been authorized for use in Micropigmentation, and show the CE brand and its corresponding sanitary registration number.

I CONFIRM that the procedure mentioned above has been fully explained to me by the physician in words I can understand, including typical risks involved, undesired effects, the risks specific to me, and also discomfort or, occasionally, pain I may feel with normal post-treatment. I have also been told about other options available in the market, together with pros and cons of each one. Taking this into account, I have chosen the treatment described above.

I have also been informed, in terms of probability, about the results of the procedure according to references from comparative scientific literature, and the professional's previous experience executing these procedures.

BRIEF EXPLANATION OF THE TREATMENT:

The procedure mentioned above is indicated for permanent makeup on lips, eyebrows, eyes, areolas, scalp, areas with alopecia, or other areas showing color changes, scars, etc., and involves inserting an inorganic pigment in the dermis with one-, three- or five-point sterile needles based on the patient's desired thickness for that area. The pigment color and shape (of eyebrows, lips or eye-lining, areola, etc.) will be determined by the patient prior to the application of the definite pigment during the design stage of the area's shape and color. Immediately after the permanent makeup procedure, an antibiotic/anti-inflammatory vaseline will be applied in the area, which you will reapply when you notice the area is dry to keep it moist during the healing week after applying the pigment to get optimum results.

Permanent makeup has a variable duration of at least 1 year based on the patient's skin; during said period, as the pigment gradually metabolizes, its color may lose intensity, or change to other shades during the process of degradation, in a way that to keep its tone to 100%, you may need a pigmentation once a year.

Permanent makeup is performed in three phases:

- Design, where the shape and color are determined.
- Application of the pigment, with a healing period of one week.
- Retouch of pigment (and its healing period), that can be performed 15 days after first application.

I ACCEPT that there may be RISKS AND COMPLICATIONS described as inherent to this procedure. Some of the main risks that have been explained to me include:

- Risks and complications common to any aesthetic treatment, including allergic reactions to the substance used (usually mild, resolving with appropriate treatment or even without it), hematomas, edemas or inflammation that will usually resolve in a short period of time without the need to be treated.
- Risks and complications specific to this treatment, that have been explained to me and that I have accepted. When applying the pigment, you may notice: from a small pinch to pain in areas with most sensitivity, so a cream can be used to numb or anesthetize the area; a small erythema (redness) or inflammation that will resolve in 24-48 hours; possible occurrence of tiny scabs during the healing period; rare occurrence of hematomas that will resolve spontaneously in a short period of time.

I have been correctly informed, even in writing (information documents) and/or using images, about this treatment's characteristics: its fundamentals, the manner and details of its execution, its action mechanisms, its immediate effects, the process and evolution of the necessary supplementary treatments to observe in the following days, weeks or months, the cares and precautions to adopt in the following hours or days, the variability of the time necessary to fully recover; therefore, I acknowledge that no guarantee can be given to me as to the date when I can resume my regular activities (emotional, social, work and sports).

I ATTEST I have not left out or altered any data when showing my surgical medical history and records, especially those concerning allergies and diseases or personal risks.

The results from tests performed on the patient don't advise against using the appropriate medical procedure when there isn't, a priori, any risks that may have determined the failure of the technique objectively considered, and which means to meet your expectations.

I RECOGNIZE that, during the procedure, unforeseen conditions may necessitate different methods than those described above. Therefore, I hereby expressly authorize said procedures, including my transfer to a hospital center. In case of complications during the procedure, I authorize the Hospital to request the assistance they deem necessary from other specialists, in their best professional judgment.

I HAVE BEEN INFORMED that the number of sessions and pigment necessary to obtain the desired effect is only illustrative, being impossible to know the exact number of sessions that will be necessary in advance, because each patient's absorption/reaction is different.

If, during the procedure, the healthcare staff was accidentally exposed to my blood, according to the principles of good medical practice I have been informed of the need to perform the proper analytical determinations on my blood, related to potential pathologies of blood transmission, to adopt the most suitable preventive measures.

I AGREE to do my best to follow the technician's instructions to the letter before, during and after the procedure mentioned above. I take responsibility for complying with post treatment measures recommended by the Hospital, as well as attending control visits suggested by the technician: I particularly must keep the area moist with vaseline. To prevent coloring changing during the healing week, the following recommendations will be followed:

- For eyes, lips and eyebrows: do not wear makeup, do not take the sun, do not bathe at the sea or in a pool, do not use cleansers or cleansing pads (use water and neutral soap to wash up), do not use creams in the area, except the one prescribed.
- For lips: avoid eating acidic foods (salads with vinegar or lemon), and drink juices (orange, grapefruit) with a straw, to prevent acid from touching the pigment.

I UNDERSTAND that the goal of the procedure is to improve my appearance, with the possibility that some imperfection remains and that the result may not be what I expected. In this sense, I have been informed that the aesthetic result of the treatment depends on factors like how easily you scar, and the formation or non-formation of keloids. I am aware that the medical and aesthetic fields are not an exact science, and that absolute perfection cannot be guaranteed. I understand the result may not be as expected and acknowledge that I haven't been given any guarantee at all.

The procedure might not end in itself, and subsequent treatment action might be necessary to reach the goal you're consenting to.

The cost of the treatment includes several charges for the services provided. The total includes your technician's fees and the cost of materials, equipment or product. The charges for this procedure don't include possible future costs for additional procedures of your choice, or that you require to review, optimize or complete your result. There may be additional charges due to complications arising from the treatment. Charges for secondary procedures concerning check-ups and charges that haven't been previously arranged will also be your responsibility. By signing the consent for this procedure, you acknowledge you have been informed about its risks and consequences and take responsibility for the decisions made, together with the economic costs of any future treatments.

I AUTHORIZE the taking of photographs and videos for an appropriate evaluation, and for the control of the assessment and results. I also authorize the taking of photographs of the treated area for scientific, educational or clinical purposes, and I understand that their use is not a violation of privacy or confidentiality, rights to which I am entitled.

I KNOW my data will be treated in an automated manner, which I have authorized after my rights have been explained to me pursuant to the LOPD (Spanish Organic Act on Data Protection) in force: rights of access, rectification, cancellation and objection established by the Act, and after expressing I can address the Clinic in writing, notwithstanding the provisions of Section 8 of the Act about health-related data. With my signature, I give my express consent for my personal data to be handled by the CLINIC for their own purposes.

I am aware that my signature and this consent don't assume any kind of waiver to future claims, both clinical and legal. I am also aware that I can withdraw my signature from this consent at any time prior to the execution of the treatment.

I have clarified any doubts about everything that has been mentioned above, and I fully understand this CONSENT DOCUMENT, standing by each and all of its points; by signing the document, I ratify and consent to the execution of the treatment.
