I HEREBY STATE:

That I REQUEST AND AUTHORIZE Doctor _____
_____, graduated in Medicine and Surgery, with medical license number _____, to perform upon me a treatment known as HIGH-INTENSITY FOCUSED ULTRASOUND (HIFU), having chosen this instead of the alternatives, namely _____.

In this case, the device used is _____®.

I KNOW and ACCEPT the physician's professional training to perform this treatment.

The substances and machines involved have been authorized for use in aesthetic medicine, and show the CE brand and its corresponding sanitary registration number.

I CONFIRM that the treatment mentioned above has been fully explained to me by the physician in words I can understand, including typical risks involved, undesired effects, the risks specific to me, and also discomfort or, occasionally, pain I may feel with normal post-treatment. I have also been told about other options available in the market, together with pros and cons of each one. Taking this into account, I have chosen the treatment described above.

I have also been informed, in terms of probability, about the results of the procedure according to references from comparative scientific literature, and the professional's previous experience executing these procedures.

BRIEF EXPLANATION OF THE TREATMENT:

It consists of the application of a high-intensity focused ultrasound on the skin of the area to be treated that goes through the skin without damaging it, but accumulates high energy in micro dots at a predefined depth of up to 13-20mm, causing a micro ablation of the tissue due to a temperature increase of 65-70°C, which has several effects:

- Reduction of subdermal fat of double chin and face.
- Tissue regeneration proven by an improvement of skin flaccidity. This effect begins within a month and usually lasts a year.
- Partial destruction of the sweat glands.

What is HIFU indicated for?

- Face and neck flaccidity.
- Localized fat in double chin.
- Underarm hyperhidrosis

Contraindications:

- Pacemakers or metal prosthetic.
- Areas affected with dermatosis, tattoos, neoplasias or infections.
- Patients that are immunocompromised, decompensated, pregnant or with a high risk of keloids.
- Patients with relapsed herpes simplex in the area to be treated, except with preventative treatment.
- Pregnancy and lactation, epilepsy, coagulation disorders or open wounds.

How is the HIFU performed?

It is applied with a head with micropoints, and, although it can be a little bothersome (feeling of heat), it is performed with no kind of anesthesia.

It is compatible with any other medical-aesthetical technique.

The treatment is usually performed once a year; however, and based on each individual's degree of flaccidity and biological response, it may be necessary to perform two.

What cares does ablative laser require?

Immediately after treatment, skin may be slightly red and swollen, which will resolve a few hours later. There can also be a feeling of tingling or mild alteration of sensitivity that can last a few weeks.

I have been correctly informed, even in writing (information documents) and/or using images, about this treatment's characteristics: its fundamentals, the manner and details of its execution, its action mechanisms, its immediate effects, the process and evolution of the necessary supplementary treatments to observe in the following days, weeks or months, the cares and precautions to adopt in the following hours or days, the variability of the time necessary to fully recover; therefore, I acknowledge that no guarantee can be given to me as to the date when I can resume my regular activities (emotional, social, work and sports).

I ATTEST I have not left out or altered any data when showing my surgical medical history and records, specially those concerning allergies and diseases or personal risks.

The Medical History and results from tests performed on the patient don't advise against using the appropriate medical procedure when there isn't, a priori, any risks that may have determined the failure of the technique objectively considered, and which means to meet your expectations.

I RECOGNIZE that, during the treatment, unforeseen conditions may necessitate different procedures than those described above. Therefore, I hereby expressly authorize said procedures, including my transfer to a hospital center. In case of complications during the treatment, I authorize the Hospital to request the assistance they deem necessary from other specialists, in their best professional judgment.

I HAVE BEEN INFORMED that the number of sessions necessary to obtain the desired effect is only illustrative, being impossible to know the exact number of sessions that will be necessary in advance, because each patient's reaction is different. Results are obtained with greater efficacy if the treatment performed is supplemented with other treatments that will improve its effects.

If, during treatment, the healthcare staff was accidentally exposed to my blood, according to the principles of good medical practice I have been informed of the need to perform the proper analytical determinations on my blood, related to potential pathologies of blood transmission, to adopt the most suitable preventive measures.

I AGREE to do my best to follow the doctor's instructions to the letter before, during and after the treatment mentioned above. I take responsibility for complying with post treatment measures recommended by the Hospital, as well as attending control visits suggested by the doctor.

I UNDERSTAND that the goal of the treatment is to improve my appearance, with the possibility that some imperfection remains and that the result may not be what I expected. In this sense, I have been informed that the aesthetic result of the treatment depends on factors like how easily you scar, and the formation or non-formation of keloids. I am aware that the medical field is not an exact science, and that absolute perfection cannot be guaranteed. I understand the result may not be as expected and acknowledge that I haven't been given any guarantee at all.

Medical action might not end in itself, and subsequent treatment action might be necessary to reach the goal you're consenting to.

The cost of the treatment includes several charges for the services provided. The total includes your doctor's fees and the cost of materials, equipment or product. The charges for this procedure don't include possible future costs for additional procedures of your choice, or that you require to review, optimize or complete your result. There may be additional charges due to complications arising from the treatment. Charges for secondary treatments concerning check-ups and charges that haven't been previously arranged will also be your responsibility. By signing the consent for this procedure, you acknowledge you have been informed about its risks and consequences and take responsibility for the medical decisions made, together with the economical costs of any future treatments.

I AUTHORIZE the taking of photographs and videos for an appropriate diagnostic evaluation, and for the control of the assessment and results. I also authorize the taking of photographs of the operated area for scientific, educational or clinical purposes, and I understand that their use is not a violation of privacy or confidentiality, rights to which I am entitled.

I KNOW my data will be treated in an automated manner, which I have authorized after my rights have been explained to me pursuant to the LOPD (Spanish Organic Act on Data Protection) in force: rights of access, rectification, cancellation and objection established by the Act, and after expressing I can address the Clinic in writing, notwithstanding the provisions of Section 8 of the Act about health-related data. With my signature, I give my express consent for my personal data to be handled by the CLINIC for their own purposes.

I am aware that my signature and this consent don't assume any kind of waiver to future claims, both clinical and legal. I am also aware that I can withdraw my signature from this consent at any time prior to the execution of the treatment.

I have clarified any doubts about everything that has been mentioned above, and I fully understand this CONSENT DOCUMENT, standing by each and all of its points; by signing the document, I ratify and consent to the execution of the treatment.
